Development Management is recruiting positions available in both a new Strategic Development Hub (SDH) as well as in its 8 District offices.

Strategic Development Hub

The new Strategic Development Hub will provide a dedicated, specialist service for high-value and high-impact development applications, ensuring that projects of strategic importance to the City receive focused coordination and the appropriate level of technical expertise. The Hub, based in Cape Town Central Business Area for the time being, will manage complex private-sector and public-sector developments through a coordinated, multi-disciplinary model, with dedicated capacity to streamline decision-making, resolve interdepartmental issues and provides a relationship-led interface with applicants. This differentiated approach will enable the City to align its resources and governance to the scale, complexity and strategic value of major developments, while improving certainty, coordination and turnaround times.

Streamlined Districts

Streamlined District Offices will focus on the efficient, high-throughput processing of routine transactional and minor applications, ensuring that the majority of lower-complexity development work is handled quickly and consistently at district level. These teams will remain close to the communities they serve, providing accessible local support and enabling issues to be addressed at source where support is needed. The teams will be structured around standardised processes, clear decisionmaking pathways and appropriate levels of delegation, enabling resources to be focused on volume processing while maintaining service quality and compliance. Minor applications will increasingly benefit from streamlined screening, standardised assessment and automated or AI-assisted compliance checks, allowing district teams to process high volumes effectively while reserving specialist capacity for more complex and strategic applications.
